TEXT OF THE FULTON BILL

Measure to Prohibit False Labeling of Salmon Sweeping in Its Terms.

HEAVY FINES ARE PROVIDED

Violation of Law Means a $200 Fine the First Time and $300 for Subsequent Violations.

The text of the bill offered by Senator Fulton in the upper house of the national congress on November 11, prohibiting the false labeling of salmon, was received by The Astorian yesterday. The measure is entitled, "A bill prohibiting the introduction into any state or territory or the District of Columbia, from any other state or territory, or from any foreign country, or from any foreign country, or shipment to any foreign country, any misbranded salmon fish prepared for use or intended for use as an article of food," and provides:

"Sec. 1. That the introduction into any state or territory or the District of Columbia, from any other state or territory, or from any foreign country, or from any foreign country, or shipment to any foreign country, of any salmon fish prepared for use or intended for use as an article of food which is misbranded within the meaning of this act is hereby prohibited; and any person who shall ship or deliver for shipment from any state or territory or the District of Columbia, or to any state or territory, or to any foreign country, or who shall receive in any state or territory or the District of Columbia, or who, having received, shall deliver in original unbroken packages for sale or otherwise, or offer to deliver to any other person, any such misbranded salmon fish, or any person who shall sell or offer for sale in the District of Columbia or the territories of the United States any such misbranded salmon fish who shall export or offer to export to any foreign country, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for such offense be fined not exceeding $200 for the first offense, and for each succeeding offense not exceeding $300, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

"Sec. 2. That for the purpose of this act salmon fish shall be deemed to be misbranded if the package containing it, or its label, shall bear any statement regarding the species of the salmon fish therein contained, or the river or other body of water or locality where the fish therein contained was caught, or the season when caught, which statement shall be false or misleading in any particular, or if the same is falsely branded as to the state or territory or locality therein in which such fish was caught or canned, pickled, cured, boxed, barreled, or otherwise packed."

The bill has been referred to the committee on fisheries, of which Senator Fulton is a member, for investigation and report. That the committee will report favorably on the measure is assured, and at the regular session the new law will doubtless be enacted.

The total number of registrations recorded by Auditor Anderson at the hour of closing his office yesterday was 866, which is divided in the different precincts as follows: No. 127; No. 2, 181; No. 3, 176; No. 4, 187; No. 5, 119; No. 6, 66.

The late Charles Anderson was a member in good standing of the Modern Woodmen, and by his death his widow will receive $2000. Mr. Anderson was drowned during a recent storm on the river, but his body has not been recovered.

The Astoria Crushed Rock Company will finish its labors on the Olney road next week. There remains but a short distance to be worked, a layer of small rock being required. The company has not been operating its crusher steadily for the past two weeks owing to bad weather.

The Imperial oyster and chop house has been opened on Commercial street opposite Peterson & Brown's store by S. M. Gallagher, a well known caterer. Mr. Gallagher has a very neat place of business and will keep constantly on hand all the delicacies of the season, including the famous Toke Point oysters. The public is invited to give the Imperial a trial.

Frank Deveney as "Mr. Jack," was awarded the prize as the second best dressed gentleman at the Red Men's masquerade ball Thanksgiving eve. The first report had it Frank Dement as Captain Jack. "Mr. Jack" is the pictorial creation of one of W. R. Hearst's artists and his antics were comically reproduced by Mr. Deveney at the masquerade.

At the meeting of Beaver lodge, I. O. O. F., held Thursday evening, officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term. The election resulted as follows: I. W. Pantiajo, noble grand; L. O. Belland, vice-grand; Olof Anderson, secretary; John Hahn, financial secretary; C. S. Wright, treasurer. The officers elected will be regularly installed at the first meeting in January.

At the special legislative session called by Governor Chamberlain the Astoria charter bill will come up for action. The bill was passed at the last session but the governor vetoed it. The bill will come up and the veto will either be confirmed or overruled. The bill, along with other things, provides for an election at which shall be elected those officials chosen in off years.

Thursday night the Odd Fellows elected officers. Of the five officers chosen, four are candidates on the city ticket to be voted on in December. I. W. Pantiajo, who was elected noble grand, is a republican candidate for councilman from the first ward; L. O. Belland, the new vice-grand, is the candidate of both parties for councilman from the third ward; Olof Anderson, the secretary, is the citizen candidate for auditor and police judge, while John Hahn, the financial secretary, is the republican nominee for city treasurer. Chas. S. Wright, treasurer of the lodge, alone of the newly elected officers, is not a candidate for office.

The Italian bark Cavour, which has arrived down the river, is experiencing some difficulty with her crew, the members of which refuse to go to sea, because they allege she is not seaworthy. Yesterday a report was current that the vessel leaked badly coming down the river, and the statement was made that there was seven feet of water in her hold. A reporter who investigated the matter learned that there was no truth in the report. The vessel's tank was leaking slightly and there was some water in her hold, as is usual with wooden vessels, but she was not leaking enough to cause alarm, or even comment. The crew is led in its uprising by one Mr. Murphy. Form what could be learned yesterday, the sailors are merely anxious to find cause for complaint, and it would not be at all surprising if another crew was shipped in this city.

By using a double-bitted ax, some miscreant forced an entrance into the rear of Wherity, Ralston & Company's store sometime Thursday night. It was discovered yesterday morning that robbery had been attempted, but upon investigation it was learned that nothing of value had been taken. The till was undisturbed, and as there was very little money in it, the thief would not have enriched himself had he gotten it. As there were a number of open boxes containing rubber boots near where the entrance had been effected it is possible that a pair of these was stolen, but as no account had been kept of the number of pairs the boxes left none is missing. The burglar left the ax in the store and this, with all information at hand, was promptly turned over to Sheriff Linville, who is working on the case.

STRENUOUS FOOTBALL

Vancouver Soldiers Resort to Brutal Tactics in Game With Astorians.

KICKED, SLUGGED, ROCKED

In Spite of the Pierce Treatment Commercial Club Team Gains Victory by 21 to 0.

The Astoria Commercial Club football team continued its unbroken line of victories by decisively beating Vancouver in the Thanksgiving game, the score being 21 to 0. The score tells but vaguely the story of the game. Robbed by the officials, rocked by the spectators, slugged, kicked and poked by the players, Astoria considers itself lucky in getting as much as it did. Astoria crossed the goal line three times only to have the ball brought back for some imaginary offense. On almost every play Astoria was penalized and when the official's list of reasons ran out, they penalized the Astoria team because a Vancouver man tackled Barker around the ankles.

But the officials were models of correctness compared with the players themselves. Hopelessly out-classed, they resorted to every contemptible little method possible to originate in the minds of depraved ruffians, such as the soldiers conducted themselves. The tactics they employed on the gridiron would not have been tolerated for an instant in the worst of saloon brawls. There were a few Astorians who attended the game as spectators and they all agree that never was such outrageous conduct witnessed on a football field. They say that the soldiers openly kicked and slugged the visitors, and showed from first to last a viciousness that seemed incredible for human beings. To the credit of the Astorians it is said that not in one single instance did they retaliate in kind. Always gentlemen, they played straight clean football, played it hard and to win, and did win, despite the vile methods employed to prevent their doing so. The few loyal supporters that accompanied the team were also rocked. Dr. J. A. Regan suffering keenly from a blow dealt him behind the ear with one of the hard missiles. One of the indignant Astorians who witnessed the game said: "Army officers sit in the grand stand interested spectators, sanctioning by their silence the brutal work of their men."

Astoria is to be commended for playing a clean, gentlemanly game, for under the circumstances it was almost unnatural to do so.

About the game little can be said. Astoria's whole team played a star game throughout; every man was in the play. Team work was perfect, interference was well formed, and on defense they held Vancouver for no gains just once during the whole game did Vancouver take first down. The line was a stone wall. Vancouver's line, supposed to be impenetrable, was punctured and broken up at will. The ends were easy and at no time was Astoria held except when the officials took the ball away unjustly.

Payne, Astoria's fullback, was there with the goods. He pounded Vancouver's lines for long gains and for the first few minutes received the brunt of the soldiers' animosity, until forced to retire, battered and bruised and unable to remain longer in the game. Fainter went in at full and he was also successful in making gains by his fierce line bucking. Sutton and Minard, tackles, played a great game never allowing a play to pass over or by them. The rest of the men played with unusual ability; and all came out of the contest in good condition, considering the fierce treatment they were accorded. They beat Vancouver by a larger score than did Multnomah and equalled the score made by Chemawa, thus showing that Astoria has a team in a class with the best of any in the state.

While the players are loud in their condemnation of the soldiers, and announce that they have severed all connection with that post in things athletic, they feel that they adopted the best course--taking all without retort or retaliation, when they would have been justified in going to any limit for self protection.
